

Cupcake Bath Bombs

MAKES 12 MEDIUM "CUPCAKES" OR 8 LARGE ONES

Ingredients

8 oz baking soda
4 oz corn starch
4 oz citric acid
4 oz epsom salt
2-3 tsp water
10-20 drops essential oils
2 tsp oil (coconut, olive, jojoba, sweet almond)

Instructions

Combine the dry ingredients in a large bowl. Stir to remove any lumps. (Be careful because it can get pretty powdery and you don't want to inhale anything!)

In a small jar, stir together the wet ingredients (water and oil). If you're only making one scent, add the essential oils now, but if you want to make multiple scents, you can add them later!

Slowly add the wet ingredients to the dry ingredients, stirring as you go. If the mixture starts getting really fizzy, add the liquids more slowly and stir more quickly. To check if you have enough liquid added, squeeze a little bit together in your hands (it should pack easily and stick together). Add a bit more water or oil if the mix doesn't pack well.

If you want to make multiple scents, divide the mix into separate bowls and add your oils to each one! Some of my favorite oils to add are lavender + frankincense, lemon + tangerine, and stress away.

Pack the mix into a standard size muffin tin with cupcake liners. Make sure to really pack it in there tightly! If you have a second muffin tin, you can also press it into the first one (like you're stacking it up) to pack the mix in even more.

Let your bath bombs dry for around a day before (carefully!) removing them from the muffin tin. Store in a dry place until you're ready to use them.

These make great gifts for galentine's day, mother's day, birthdays, or christmas! They are also great for using in the shower as well as the bath!
